JAPANESE SCHOOL QUESTION

The Federal Government to say who shall enter their schools and who shall not. (Applause). And there is no attempt upon the part of the Federal government here to interfere with this question. But the State Department informs this House, through its Judiciary Committee, that they have immense complications growing up. I want to say to this House today that the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Sherley) is entitled to great credit from this House for taking upon himself the responsibility of bringing into this House this great and important question.

MR. JENKINS. Now, look at the bill for a moment; and I regret very much when my friend from California, whom I respect so much, asks if it would interfere with his schools out in San Francisco. That has been very clearly stated here today. I do not think there is a man of intelligence in the United States today, no matter what his political affiliations may be, but who agrees that that question is solely within the power of the State, and I never want to live long enough to find that the Federal government has power enough to overrule the state with reference to that question. (Applause.) And when the State of California says just how her schools shall be created and who shall enter and who be excluded, she has the exclusive power and paramount right, and the Federal government cannot interfere with it.

MR. DE ARMOND and MR. HENRY of Texas rose.

MR. JENKINS. I yield to the gentleman from Missouri.

MR. DE ARMOND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman a question at that point: Suppose this law were passed, and suppose in some treaty the right were given to aliens of a different color and a different race to enter our white schools, and suppose that some person in authority denied them admission, and suppose there was an effort made to indict those persons. Could that effort be pursued in the federal court under this provision, if enacted?

MR. JENKINS. I do not think I am sufficiently conversant with the Bible to quote it correctly, but I think the Bible says, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." I do not think there is any Senate of the United States that will come after us that will make a treaty that overrides the rights of the States. We have no such treaty regulation today.

MR. HENRY of Texas. Can the gentleman name one right any State has denied to the alien?

MR. JENKINS. There is no State in the Union which can give protection to the alien against any conspiracy against his treaty rights.

MR. HENRY of Texas. Name one of the fifty, then. The gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Sherley) says he can name fifty.

MR. SHERLEY. If the gentleman will read just the history of the trouble in California, he will find even the right of residence, the right to conduct a laundry, the right to live—every sort of a right—was denied to the Chinese during that immense excitement there.

MR. HENRY of Texas. Does the gentleman mean to say that there was no law to protect those rights?

MR. SHERLEY. I say there was no state law that did protect those rights.

MR. HENRY of Texas. The gentleman means to say that the state law was violated, perhaps?

MR. SHERLEY. I mean to say the State did not protect the alien, and the Federal Government did not have the power to do so.

MR. JENKINS. Mr. Speaker, I want to simply say in conclusion to the members of this House, as far as I am concerned, that every gentleman on the floor of this House knows that this government has perfect power to enter into treaty relations with other governments. Therefore we should clothe the Federal Government with power to protect aliens under any treaty regulations that this government might make and that is all we are insisting upon and all we ask.

THE PACIFIC WEEKLY

The Pacific Weekly issued tomorrow morning will contain a number of attractive features and will be unusually interesting. "The Reflections of Johnny the Gent." a series of classics of the town, written in up-to-date slang, will start with tomorrow's number. The automobile department will be of interest to owners and intending owners of motor cars, and the peculiar vein of humor which has made "Pertinent Pars" so readable in the past will pan out richly tomorrow.

"It Is Said" will get the town on the qui vive as usual and the column is likely to create more gossip than it has done for some time past.

See the ladies' suit suits that will be slaughtered on Monday, now on display in Sachs' windows.

GOOD NEWS

Hon. P. C. Jones has informed The Star that a wireless from Pahala gives the good news that one and a quarter (1 1/4) inches of rain has fallen there, and that there is snow on the mountains.

Mr. Jones thinks it probable that Kona as well as Kau district has shared in the precipitation. If so it means a blessed break in the drought of eighteen months which has been disastrous to ranchmen and farmers.

HEIRESS OF AGE

Judge Robinson granted the petition of Mary Kahal Puuliki, represented by Antonio Perry, attorney, to be discharged as guardian of the person and estate of Mary Kahal, her minor daughter who came of age on February 3. The ward gave a final receipt to the guardian for $130.16 in the Bank of Hawaii savings department, $721.25 in the Bank of Bishop & Co. savings department, $10 cash on hand, all the household furniture in their home and all lands and improvements and other property named in the inventory. Real estate handed over comprises the following: Lot at Kuna, Achi lane, taxed at $1650; lot at Kaunakapili, off Beretania street, taxed at $1090; two lots on Maunakea street, taxed at $2360; three lots at Kapaehulu, taxed at $400; one-half interest in Kapaehulu lot, $50; lot at Kona, Puna, Hawaii, $50; improvements on Kapaehulu lots, $300. Altogether the young heiress receives an estate of $6761.41 in money and real estate besides the household furniture.

PRIORY CORNER STONE LAYING

On Sunday afternoon at three o'clock the corner stone of the new St. Andrew's Building will be laid by Sisters Beatrice and Albertina. The service will be conducted by Bishop Restarick and will consist of hymns and prayers and a brief address giving the chief points of history of the Priory. A general invitation is extended to all who wish to attend the ceremony. The building now in course of construction has already reached the line of the window sill of the first story. It is appropriate that the Sisters should lay this school as they were present when the school was opened in 1867 and for thirty-five years carried on the work without intermission.

BUFORD LATE, NO MATINEE

Buford late no matinee.

The Buford, which was to have brought the Philippine Constabulary Band this morning, has been delayed by the bad weather that is retarding the progress of all the incoming steamers, and had not been sighted up to the time the Star went to press. In consequence, the matinee performance for today at the Opera House has been postponed till tomorrow afternoon. Matinee tickets will be good for the matinee tomorrow, but not for the evening concert.

The evening concert will take place unless the Buford should not be in dock by 7:30. Those who wish to find out the time of the concert may do so by calling up either the Bergstrom Music Co. or the Territorial Messenger service.

THE ROADS ARE GOOD.

Good roads are enticing the owners of motor cars to Haleiwa. There is an entire absence of mud and dust after leaving the city and the ride is most enjoyable. Manager Bidgood reports frequent visits from the officers of Camp Lihoua. Golf and bathing continue the popular features of the hotel aside from the excellent cuisine. Those who are not the owners of autos may hire them for the ride or take the train to the door—either is good enough for the average man.

You are as sure of the absolute purity of Heinz goods as you are of the purity of the products of your own kitchen. They are absolutely free from preservatives of an artificial nature. Finest dry and seasoned algaroba and ohia stove wood delivered in any quantity by the Union-Pacific Transfer Co. Cut in convenient stove lengths. 122 King street, phone 58.

The steamship Chiyu Maru, from San Francisco, was sighted off Koko Head at 12 noon.

BOY GETS THE "BIBLE CURE"

Hirata, the Japanese boy who so mysteriously wandered into the lodgings of other Japanese in Kekaulike street night before last and was arrested at the instance of the inmates of the place, was this morning turned over to P. M. Rider, superintendent of the Kakaako Mission. Mr. Rider will give the boy the Sunday School cure and try to keep him out of bad company until he is older. It developed in the police court hearing that he was a minor and had other claims to sympathy and a helping hand.

David Kane, a young Hawaiian who has been before the police court many times, was this morning sent to the reef for vagrancy.

Four gamblers pleaded guilty to the charge against them and paid fines of $5 each and costs of court.

Judge Andrade thinks that yesterday's article in The Star regarding the amendment proposed by him to the liquor law makes it appear that he wants to be the great I Am in hearing liquor cases. "Such is far from the fact," says the jurist. "In place of seeking all this country business I would be glad to be rid of it. The situation is however, that the Honolulu authorities are better informed on and better equipped for handling country business than are the police of the smaller communities. The new arrangement, while imposing more responsibility and work upon the local authorities, would be, I feel certain, in the direction of better results."

"I do not wish it understood, however, that I am seeking to place undue responsibilities upon the local authorities."

JUDGE THAYER ON THE CHIYO

The Chiyu Maru, which was sighted at 12 o'clock noon from San Francisco, reached her berth at the Hackfeld wharf about 2:30 o'clock.

She will resume her voyage at 12 noon tomorrow for Yokohama and Hongkong.

Tonight at 9 o'clock a big reception and dance will be given on board the liner, to which all the society people of Honolulu are specially and cordially invited.

Lay-over passengers for Honolulu are: Mrs. J. P. Moore, D. McKenzie and wife, Mrs. G. Joiner, Mrs. George W. Kinney, B. S. Foss and N. Foss. These are all tourists and stop merely to see the island's sights.

The most prominent through passenger is Judge Rufus H. Thayer, of Washington, who is going out to Shanghai to succeed Judge Willey in the American court there. He is accompanied by his wife. Judge Thayer is a man close onto sixty years of age, but looks hale and hearty and is exceptionally jolly for a man of his years.

The Chiyu had good weather most of the way over. She brought only a part of the mail, the bulk of it being on the Alameda, which sailed several hours earlier.

Evidently the Territorial grand jury is going deeply into the alleged conspiracy of the Japanese high wage agitators. Subpoenas were issued to Mr. Takaji of Bishop's Bank, Mr. Terada of the Shimpu Sha newspaper, Y. Tsakaku of the Nippon Jiji newspaper and Tsukasa Saito, manager of theater, to appear before the grand jury at 9 o'clock this morning.

DIVORCE SUITS

Kaolelo Keiloholokai sue Keiloholokai for divorce on account of desertion. Uluhahi Kaahue sue Kaahue for divorce on the grounds of desertion and non-support.

Louise Ng Kong sue Ng Kong for divorce on account of desertion and non-support, the libel alleging that the man has gone to China and left his wife and one child in destitution here.

NEW INDICTMENT.

In the case of Y. Yamamoto, indicted for bribery, a demurrer to indictment was confessed and a new indictment has been returned.

GARD OF THANKS.

John C. Lane wishes to return his sincere thanks to the many friends who contributed flowers to the funeral of his late brother, James C. Lane, and otherwise expressed their kindly sympathy. Further he desires to utter his grateful appreciation of the services of Dr. O'Day, with the able assistance of Dr. Cooper and Dr. Mackall, in restoring his brother to a rational condition before his death, so that after the long years of darkness he was enabled to pass a few hours of affectionate intercourse with the other members of the family ere taking his departure to that undiscovered country from which no traveler ever returns.
